CONGRESSMAN HUTTON.

An Entertaining Talk About the Marshalship.

From the St. Louis Republicar Congressman John E. Hotton is at the Laclede on his way home from Washington where he has been to take a hand in the marshal fight, now on in the Eastern district, Col. Hutton is an avowed opponent to Jasper Burks, and is working for the appointment of Deputy Marshal Wheeler. To a Republican reporter last night he said that the statement that he had given up the fight for O. K. Wheeler is erroneous; he is still hopeful of the success of his man, and will send on new papers to the proper department for Mr. Wheeler in a few days. "I have talked with the President about the nomination." said he, "and have come to the conclusion that it is still any man's fight. I am not at liberty to speak of anything that transpired between myself and the President during our talk, but I can say that I do not believe Mr. Burks will be the appointee. The President is anxious to pass on the matter, and will do so as soon as consistent with public policy. He is judging of the merits of the place, as has been stated?" "I think he rather inclued to the opinion that section was entitled to it, but I made an effort to disabuse his mind of any such idea. I called his attention to the fact that the Southeast had already more recognition in the way of offices than the Northeast; that they had Hawkins, Clark and half a dozen others of lesser importance, and there was no earthly reason why a man from some other section of the district should not be appointed, especially when he had the almost unanimous indorsement of the Southeastern people be-"No. I think it is now between Burks and Wheeler; of course, I don't pretend to predict what changes may take place before the appointment is made.
